our house
shall be known
as the house of learning.
the knowledge
of wisdom
is knowledge
itself.

in learning
accountability
is an anagram
created
by transforming
the letters of one's self.

in life
the superstars of tomorrow
are the humble
carpenters
of today.

in learning
and in life
the wisest
do not enter
another's house
but are led
to the threshold
of their own mind.

peter d. pelham
1971

barring neither rain nor snow, every morning you are the first at school, every evening you are the last to leave, you have centered your life around your students, and have shown us that the molecular weight of a compound truly is important, inspite of what we always thought, your patience has endured our stumbling over equations and anatomical structures, and your interest in your work has been a gateway to our learning. the editorial comments you have inserted in your lectures have been condusive to a broadening of our horizons, and to a greater appreciation of the mysteries of life.

we, the class of 1971, extend to you, mrs. hunter, our deeply felt appreciation for all the time you have selflessly given to us, for your never ending sense of humor and for your unwavering patience. we hope that this tribute adequately expresses our gratitude for all your kindness throughout these two years.

what did you say we ate for lunch?

i'm sorry, it's only 10:59!

and people call this school a country club . . .

i have another 9 o'clock class

it sounds budder this way.

the pill is a no-no.

... this tape self-destructs in 10 seconds.

who said there was a fight about requirements?

is that a sure thing or just another proposition?

that book is on reserve.

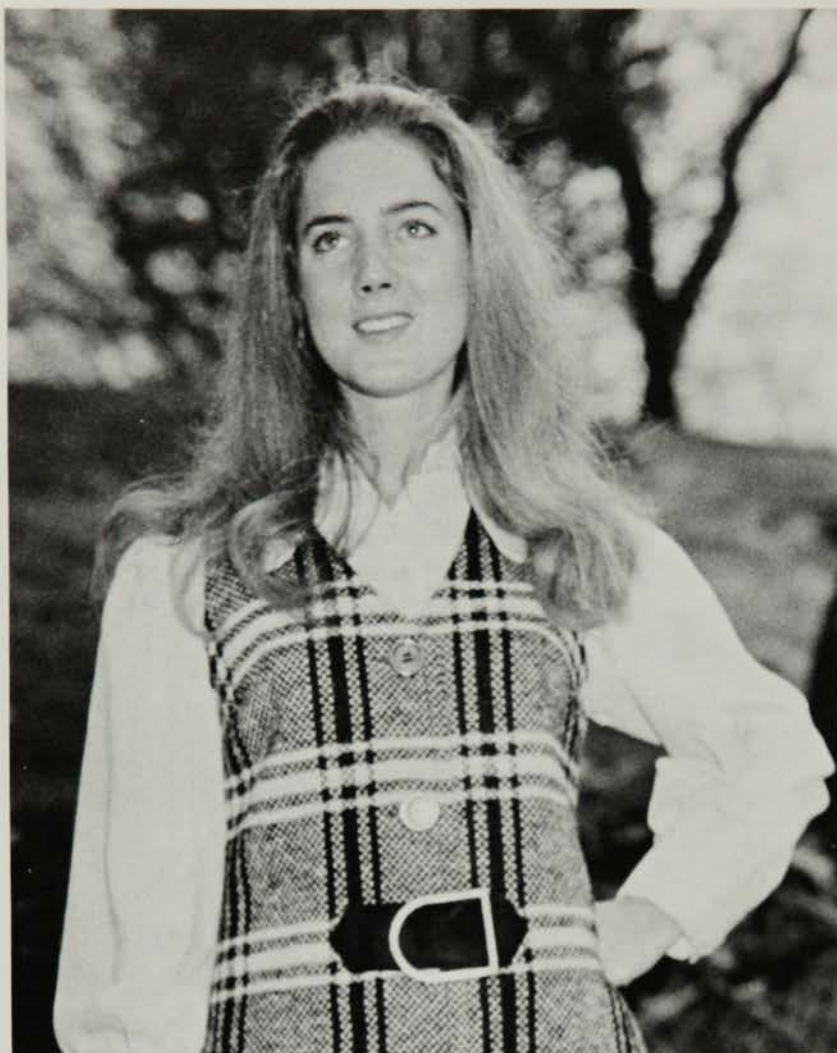

can't you see i'm busy?

my, my that cold has lingered.

i believe in the sun even when it is not shining
i believe in love even when i am alone
i believe in god even when he is silent
